

Dance as an aesthetic art expresses the Cultural Identity and historical Remanance of its native Land.

By - Mansi Sahas

Q "Anybody can Dance"
- Remo Desouza

Dance is a performing art form consisting of purposefully selected sequences of human movement. This movement has aesthetic and symbolic value, and is acknowledged as dance by performers and observers within a particular culture. Dance is an art form design to look beautiful as well to being meaningful. Some dances are tradition rabbed down over many centuries. Traditional dances impart cultural moral.

Different countries have different culture & which shows their speciality and their traditions which highlights them as their personality. Africa have its very important festival that is Hibika, this festival expresses ~~their~~ culture in this festival they have their particular place in africa called Hibika Park in which they celebrate this festival and this festival expresses africa, their everything about africa their food, their dance, their tradition and at Hibika